"Colored Folks Have Riz."

The colored population of Washington are certainly the upper dogs. This was illustrated a few days ago at the Arlington, our crack hotel. A young gentleman of the exquisite order—lavender kids, tuberose in button-hole, and "all that sort of thing, you know," sent word to the office that he desired a carriage. A few minutes later he was accosted by a darkey with these words:

"Are you de man dat wants a kerridge?"

"Ye—es," drawled the exquisite.

"Well, I'se de gentleman dats to dribe you."

The disgust and horror of the man that wanted a carriage may be imagined.

A SENSIBLE JUDGE.—A Judge in New York city has rendered an opinion that a sewing machine cannot be seized for debt, as it was more valuable than a sofa, which the law exempted.

☞ A physician claims that ten thousand women have been squeezed to death by corsets during the last five years. Some women can't get squeezed any other way. But that's too much of a good thing.

☞ The Mayor, Common Council, and 300 business men of Monticello, Iowa, have formally petitioned Lisa Webber to come there with her blonde burlesquers. She will formally comply as quick as fast traing can get her there. Monticello is evidently caught in a Webber two.

☞ A clergyman asked some children, "Why do we say in the Lord's prayer, 'Who art in Heaven,' since God is everywhere?" He saw a little drummer boy who looked as if he could give an answer, and turned to him for it: "Well, little soldier, what do you say?" "Because it's headquarters."

☞ If the Southern States are so unsafe to travel in, how is it that General Sherman has just made a trip from Washington to Mobile, and below, without being Ku-Kluxed? Where were all those organized bands of assassins and peace-breakers.

☞ There is in St. Albans a horse whose upper lip bears a heavy mustache, fully three inches in length, which parts in the middle, and gracefully curls out on either side in the most approved fashion.

☞ A humorous writer in an exchange says that advertising goods is jest like snorin', or takin' a cryin' baby to church. If you sleep in church, and don't snore, how's folks on the back seats to know you are there? And in regard to the baby, folks would never know you could raise one if, when nurse takes him to church, he didn't yell. But when he yells out good and strong, everybody, parson and all, feel mighty good. They look at him and say to themselves, "Fine baby that, by hokey a regular young hinossereeow, by gum!" The more he bellers the people know it, and the more they know it, the more they think about it."

☞ A Democratic journal in the West alleges that the Hon. Schuyler Colfax will not be a candidate for the Vice-Presidency on the Grant ticket next year. It is said that he has been prevailed upon to yield the place to one of the President's brothers-in-law. This is kind and generous, in accordance with Mr. Colfax's philanthropic nature. But which of the brothers-in-law is it to be? If justice is done all around, it will be the great and good Carbin. He has not fared as well of late as some of the other brothers-in-law, and the Vice-Presidency would go far toward making it up to him.

A Minister Ku-Kluxed in Connecticut.

A FANATICAL PREACHER TARRED AND FEATHERED.

The preacher Speight and his capture by a party of citizens is the present subject of comment. A short description of the gentleman may prove interesting. His name is John S. Speight. He left his family in Baltimore in 1867, and soon after appeared in Connecticut, expounding a new theological theory purporting to surpass all others for rare virtue and excellence. He proposed a brief sojourn, but, fortunately for the world at large, he abandoned this project and confined his operations to a few towns in this State. A few of both sexes, elated with the prospect, entered at once upon a course of theological training. Eighteen months passed slowly away, when the curtain rose, and the proprietor of this theological compound is discovered to possess a new dispensation, the God of Heaven having chosen him for that especial purpose. Many of his disciples, fearful of being victimized by a religious monopolist, abandoned his course of training; but some eight or ten women were his true followers, and affirmed that they never would forsake him. He visited his family in Baltimore in November, 1869, whither he was followed by one of the faithful, whose safe arrival and return induced more to go, and they returned in January, 1870, bringing their lord with them. His principle rendezvous was in Southington, where the public indignation was aroused, and on the evening of January 17th, a mob escorted the frightened operator out of town. He was next heard of at No. 41 St. Alexander street, in Montreal, where he had fled with no less than seven Connecticut women, who were there to enjoy the exclusive right of his company. In July, 1870, the facts connected with his appearance in Canada having been made known, he made a precipitate flight into the States, leaving his victims ignorant of his whereabouts. They soon followed, but would not visit their homes except when compelled by necessity. He has since made a raid and captured a portion of the original seven, and removed them to parts unknown, until he again appeared in this vicinity with three of his darling angels. It soon became known that the preacher was here, and an organized body was on the alert to teach him a lesson. They did not have to wait long, for on Monday evening he left the Plains at an early hour and proceeded to the residence of a friend on the North Farms, where a meeting was to be held. As we understand it, an injured party was the first to discover his presence. He was walking with his son, late in the evening, when he discovered a man, who approached him and bade him good evening, but had evidently a disposition to pass on and get into the adjoining house. The farmer said, "Your name is Speight." He said, "No, my name is Shelby;" but the boy knowing better they, after a slight mishap, succeeded in placing him in a wagon and drove him to the front of the Washington House, where a party was soon found to relieve them of further responsibility. He was then taken to the vicinity of the new school house, and after removing a portion of his clothing the tar was applied without further ceremony. No injury was offered to his person, and after he had solemnly promised to leave the State at once and return to his family in Baltimore he was allowed to go. It is said that his few followers, by a vigorous use of benzine, were enabled to get him out of town at about four o'clock on the following morning, but some say that he smelt very strong of tar. His personal description, as related to us, is not very flattering. He is a medium-sized man, with a very heavy black beard, which he permits to grow to a great length. He has an inferior look, and one would not imagine that he was smart; but it is said that he is a preacher of more than ordinary eloquence.

☞ There are some women that will do anything for their husbands, lending a helping hand on all occasions where their assistance is needed. A man in Illinois attempted to commit suicide by drowning in six inches of water, but he soon found it impossible to keep his head under long enough to strangle. What did his wife do in this dilemma? Did she leave him to suffer? Not much. Like a true and noble what do you call it, she rolled up her trowsers and waded in and sat down on his head, and made it stay by sheer force of muscle. That's the kind of a wife to have if you want to die.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Corcoran is better. Strong hopes of his recovery are entertained.

TENNESSEE.

MEMPHIS, May 2.—There was a terrible hail storm, which did great damage in North Mississippi.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, May 2.—The Imperial Council considered the French affairs and decided to allow further limited period to the Versaillists to renew order and fulfill the treaty stipulations, when Germany will take independent action, and establish law and order in Paris, and sent a dispatch to the Versailles Government granting a limited extension, and also adds that the revolution is characterized by disgraceful excesses, and cannot longer be treated for moral and material interests of Germany and the whole Europe suffering.

Bismarck was present.

Private but reliable information intimates it is the intention of the Germans to revere the Regency as their legitimate government, should Versaillists fail in forcing their authority.

FRANCE.

VERSAILLES, May 1.—Negotiations are in progress for the surrender of Issy. The Versaillists demand hostages that the fort will not be maimed or exploded, and threaten in such event to shoot the garrison. Sixty thousand men are ready at Reuil to make the attack.

Monday night Issy was reported to be in ruins. The villages are deserted. It is understood that the Issy mines will be exploded upon the entrance of the Versaillists.

The Versaillists evacuted Gennevilliers by order of the Prussians.

The Governor of Issy was suspended. La Paix is suspended.

Dombrowski ordered the inhabitants of Neuilly to evacuate within twenty-four hours.

The cause of Cluseret's arrest was his abandonment of Issy.

It is reported that Dombrowski was arrested.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 2.—The Times' special says, the insurgents themselves are throwing petroleum shells into Paris to keep up the indignation.

It is stated the Versaillists were repulsed at Issy, and workmen from Paris unspiked the guns.

It is stated that Dombrowski and staff have been captured by the Versaillists at Asinieres.

HOW TO LIVE LONG AND WELL.

A LETTER FROM MR. BRYANT—HE DESCRIBES HIS MODE OF LIFE.

From the Herald of Health.]

NEW YORK, March 30, 1871.

To Joseph H. Richards, Esq.—DEAR SIR: I promised some time since to give you some account of my habits of life, so far at least as regards diet, exercise and occupation. I am not sure that it will be of any use to you, although the system which I have for many years observed seems to answer my purpose very well. I have reached a pretty advanced period of life, without the usual infirmities of old age, and with my strength, activity and bodily faculties generally in pretty good preservation. How far this may be the effect of my way of life, adopted long ago, and steadily adhered to, is perhaps uncertain.

I rise early: at this time of the year about 5:30; in the summer, half an hour, or even an hour earlier. Immediately, with very little incumbrance of clothing, I begin a series of exercises, for the most part designed to expand the chest, and at the same time call into action all the muscles and articulations of the body. These are performed with dumb bells, the very lightest, covered with flannel; with a pole, a horizontal bar, and a light chair swung around my head. After a full hour, and sometimes more, passed in this manner, I bathe from head to foot. When at my place in the country, I sometimes shorten my exercises in the chamber, and, going out, occupy myself for half an hour or more in some work which requires brisk exercise. After my bath, if breakfast be not ready, I sit down to my studies until I am called.

My breakfast is a simple one—hominy and milk, or, in place of hominy, brown bread, or oat-meal, or wheaten grits, and, in the season, baked sweet apples. Buckwheat cakes I do not decline, nor any other article of vegetable food, but animal food I never take at breakfast. Tea and coffee I never touch at any time. Sometimes I take a cup of chocolate, which has no narcotic effect, and agrees with me very well. At breakfast I often take fruit, either in its natural state or freshly stewed.

After breakfast I occupy myself for a while with my studies, and then, when in town, I walk down to the office of the Evening Post, nearly three miles distant, and after about three hours return, always walking, whatever be the weather or the state of the streets. In the country I am engaged in my literary tasks till a feeling of weariness drives me out into the open air, and I go upon my farm or into the garden, and prune the trees, or perform some other work about them which they need, and then go back to my books. I do not drive out, preferring to walk.

In the country I dine early, and it is only at that meal that I take either meat or fish, and of these but a moderate quantity, making my dinners mostly of vegetables. At the meal which is called tea, I take only a little bread and butter, with fruit if it be on the table. In town, where I dine later, I make two meals a day. Fruit makes a considerable part of my diet, and I eat it at almost any hour of the day without inconvenience. My drink is water, yet I sometimes, though rarely, take a glass of wine. I am a natural temperance man, finding myself rather confused than exhilerated by wine. I never meddle with tobacco, except to quarrel with its use.

That I may rise early, I, of course, go to bed early; in town, as early as ten; in the country, somewhat earlier. For many years I have avoided in the evening every kind of literary occupation which tasks the faculties, such as composition, even to the writing of letters, for the reason that it excites the nervous system and prevents sound sleep.

My brother told me not long since that he had seen in a Chicago newspaper, and several other Western journals, a paragraph in which it was said that I am in the habit of taking quinine as a stimulant; that I have depended upon the excitement it produces in writing my verses; and that, in consequence of using it in that way, I had become as deaf as a post. As to my deafness, you know that to be false, and the rest of the story is equally so. I abominate all drugs and narcotics, and have always carefully avoided everything which spurs nature to exertions which it would not otherwise make. Even with my food I do not take the usual condiments, such as pepper and the like.

I am, sir, truly yours,

W. C. BRYANT.

A New Story of Daniel Webster.

A writer in the Boston Transcript tells this story, never before given to the public:

Mr. Webster, as it is well known, was very apt in his classical quotations—although less varied and less persistent in his study of the ancient authors than was his friend Rufus Choate.

Impecuniosity was regarded as an "often infirmity" of Mr. Webster; and this, or a temporary absence from home, gave rise to the following incident when he was living in New Hampshire:

A professional brother, resident in another place, had indorsed a note for him to one of the Portsmouth banks, and was notified at its maturity that the same had not been paid. He immediately wrote to Mr. Webster, and requested his attention to it. The reply was to the following effect.

"Give yourself, my friend, no uneasiness about the matter. My appeal to the bank has been as that of Nisus to the Ritull of old, to avert the impending fate of his friend Euryalus: 'Me, me, adsum, qui feci; in me convertita, ferrum.'"

To his appreciating classical surety on the note it was not necessary to give the literal translation: "I am present who did the deed; against me, me only, turn the weapon of your warfare." Suffice it to say that the appeal to the bank was, in this instance, a successful one, and the surety, as he informed me, had no further trouble in the matter.

☞ An Elmira farmer wrote to Mr. Greeley for his advice as to the relative merits of long-horn and short-horn cattle, for the farm. Horace said his experience convinced him that the short-horned cattle were the best, as he had a cow that had both horns broke off jumping a rail fence, and since that time she had given more milk and cheese than two yoke of long-horned oxen, and on the same feed, too. That poor, deluded Elmira farmer has gone to knocking the horns off all his cattle.

☞ There seems to be a good-natured rivalry between Massachusetts and Connecticut as to which shall startle the country with the greatest crime. Massachusetts has held her own pretty well, the last case of importance being the murder of a lady school-teacher by her scholars, but Connecticut now comes to the front and produces a man who has debauched five of his daughters, having children innumerable by them, which he murdered at their birth. Massachusetts must hide her head unless she can think up some deviltry that will beat this.

HOW TO ADVERTISE.—A Business Secret.—Somebody has said, and wisely: "The judicious advertiser knows his best time. When business is brisk he advertises steadily, but when it becomes dull he seeks, by a conspicuous display of special inducements to purchasers, to stimulate it into activity. He reduces prices, and he enforces the fact upon the purchaser's attention. When the timid advertiser withdraws, he has the field to himself, and he diligently cultivates it."

☞ The Radical papers of the North are at last being compelled to admit that the reason that the people of South Carolina cannot pay their taxes is because they have been so thoroughly robbed by their Radical carpet-bag rulers. The Nation asserts that those who sustain these rulers only sustain a pack of knaves in the enjoyment of their plunder.

OFFICIAL JOURNAL OF THE CITY.

THE LARGEST CITY, COUNTY AND STATE CIRCULATION. DEFIES REFUTATION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO.

I. W. AVERY, Editor.

Morning Edition.

ATLANTA:

WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1871.

The Memorial Festival.

The storm this morning ruthlessly prevented the proposed festival at Oglethorpe park. The ladies, however, are bravely trying to make the most of it in the disposition of supplies; and we hope they will soon announce an excursion. Why not? The one last year was such a success.

That "Horrible Outrage."

A Radical paper in Ohio, among others, publishes the account of the murder by masked men, of a Frenchman near Macon. The account first appeared in the Macon Telegraph, on the first day of April. The Radical paper in question, and all other Radical sheets, are requested to note the fact, that our Macon contemporary has pronounced the thing a miserable hoax, which was palmed off upon it at a late hour of night. It has about as much reality as the large majority of outrages constantly finding their way into the Radical press.

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.

WASHINGTON, April 28, 1871.

A FEW WORDS WITH MR. PRICE.

Editor Constitution: On my return to the city last evening, after a few days absence, my attention was called, for the first time, to a letter from Hon. W. P. Price, in which he attempts to defend his inexcusable absence from the Capital at the most important crisis of last session. How far he has succeeded in his endeavor, the editorials of THE CONSTITUTION, Macon Telegraph and Augusta Chronicle, now before me, show. I might safely leave the case to be dealt with by the staunch and true Democratic press of Georgia; but in reply to the personal attacks of Mr. Price on myself, I have a few words to say. He charges me with willfully missrepresenting him. That is false. My correspondence will show that I have ever spoken of Mr. Price in the kindest terms; that I have given him ample credit for all he has done in Washington, or attempted to do, for the good of the State of Georgia. This is susceptible of the clearest proof. On one occasion I stated, on the authority of a Democratic Congressman, that Mr. Price had voted against the apportionment bill. Mr. Price denied this in a courteous note to THE CONSTITUTION; and I let the matter rest, although assured that my statement was correct, and urged to reiterate it. Out of mistaken kindness, as I now believe, I refrained for a time from censuring Mr. Price for absenting himself at a period when a Democratic caucus had declared it was of the highest importance that every member should remain in his seat until the close of the session, although the Patriot of this city, and other journals at a distance had denounced him without stint, and made his conduct notorious. Yet in the face of this, he has the barefaced assurance to say:

"I regret that I should be so frequ... ...ntly singled out by your correspondent f... criticism. It may be that I ha... ...r unjust his claims in some way or ... ...e overlooked have taken no pains t... other. Indeed, I obligations, whate... put myself under any pondents wh... ...ver, to newspaper correspondents I have ... ...e at the Capital."

ed ... no claims on Mr. Price, have pressed none, and desired none. Nor has he any claims upon me. What he means by putting himself "under obligations" to newspaper correspondents, I am at a loss to imagine. To the majority of the correspondents here, he is of very little consequence, one way or the other. Had I not been a correspondent of the Georgia press it is very probable I should have remained in ignorance of the very existence of so distinguished a gentleman.

When Mr. Price first came to Washington, he was pointed out to me as a man who was not altogether to be trusted, politically. It was thought that a man who voted for the adoption of the 14th and 15th Amendments in the Georgia Legislature, and who got his disabilities removed through the endorsement of Gov. Bullock, Foster Blodgett and Joe Brown, would bear watching. Upon what pledges their endorsements were procured can only be known to the parties concerned; but it is highly significant that Mr. Price should find it very convenient, at a time when his absence proved exceedingly serviceable to the Radical party, to turn his back upon the duties to which he had been assigned by the people of the Sixth District. For his services during a few weeks of the last session of the 41st Congress, Mr. Price received one year's pay and mileage—between $5,000 and $6,000. Apparently, this did not satisfy him; and just at the most critical period of the past session, he leaves his post and hastens to the mountains of Georgia that he may protect a few fifteen shilling fees. Was it the money that tempted him? Did he sell his birthright for a mess of pottage? or did a pledge to the men who secured the removal of his political disabilities impel this flagrant dereliction of duty?

So far as the proceedings of April 6th are concerned, the statements of Mr. Price are correct. I have not time to go over the whole ground, and to look up all the votes during his absence with reference to the Ku-Klux legislation. Nor is it necessary. For two men to pair on a measure whose provisions could not possibly have been foreseen, and involving votes on side issues equally important and equally difficult to foresee, was manifestly impossible. Nor can dependence be placed on the pledges of many of the Radical members. During the last session, a Democrat paired with a Radical, and notwithstanding Mr. Randall stated to the House that the agreement had been effected in his presence, the Democrat being absent, the Radical voted. Suppose every Democrat in the House should pair with a Radical, leaving the Radical majority to carry on legislation. That is where the pairing system legitimately leads to. Are Congressmen elected symply that they may draw handsome salaries from the public treasury, while they attend to their private business?

Upon whose or what authority does Mr. Price vouch for the Democratic members of Congress as being "as vigilant and watchful as it is possible for them to be?" What can be known about it? He deserted his post while every man was called on for active service. What right has he to suppose that newspaper correspondents are not "expected to be" "vigilant and watchful?" Where could he have got his ideas of journalism? His petty fling at "irresponsible newspaper correspondents" provokes a smile. During my ten or twelve years connection with the press, as editor and correspondent, I have given such humble abilities as I possess to the service of the Democratic party, acting ever without fear or favor, but solely from strong conviction. For all that I have written, or may write, all that I have done, or may do, or say, I hold myself personally responsible. I yield to no brow-beating or intimidation. If Mr. Rice thinks to evade the issue by his childish plea of having to confront an "irresponsible newspaper correspondent," he is simply very much mistaken in his man.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES A. PILSBURY,

1114, G. Street, Washington, D. C.

P. S. I shall esteem it a favor if the Democratic papers which published Mr. Price's letter, will give publicity to my reply.

C. A. P.

AFTER THE GERMANS.—A contemporary says Gen. Grant went West with Senator Morton in order to effect a compromise with the German wing of the party in that locality, which follows Senator Schurz in opposition to the administration. If necessary, a representation in the Cabinet will be offered this element of the Radical organization. The movement is directly across the path of Senator Schurz, and he will meet it in an open, defiant manner. He defeated General Grant and all his office-holders in Missouri, and he will pull down the temple of his power in all the Northwestern States, where the Germans hold a controlling influence in the Radical party.

DECISIONS OF THE SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA.

Delivered at Atlanta, Tuesday, May 2, 1871.

[REPORTED EXPRESSLY FOR THE CONSTITUTION, BY N. J. HAMMOND, SUPREME COURT REPORTER.]

Milner Martin vs. Thos. J. S. Kimbrough. Injunction from Harris.

Robert Alexander vs. Lorenzo M. Biggers. Injunction from Harris.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

A. held a note on B. for the balance due on the purchase money of land and brought suit on such note to which B. pleaded tender and relief etc., and during the pendency of such suit, A. also brought his action of ejectment for the land. And B. filed his bill in equity reciting these facts and praying injunction against A's. action of ejectment which was refused:

HELD, That the judge committed no error in refusing the injunction under the facts in this case; that B. has a good defence at law by, pleading the pendency of the suit, and if the suit on the note is dismissed then B. may file his bill in equity under the facts and his rights may be properly adjudicated.

Judgment affirmed.

Ingraham & Crawford, A. W. Hammond & Son, for plaintiff in error.

Peabody & Brannon, for defendants.

Southern Insurance and Trust Company vs. A. Lewis & Bro. Assumpsit from Chatham.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

A. brought his action upon a policy of Insurance, and it appeared on the trial that he had erected the storehouse insured upon the land of B. under a parol contract, that he was to have the title and in consideration therefor was to erect an adjacent store for A. A. went into possession under the contract and erected his store, and was building a store adjoining for B., in pursuance of his contract.

HELD, That A. had an insurable interest in the property under section 2953 of the Revised Code, and that the recital in the policy of A's ownership of the storehouse insured was not a misrepresentation under the facts in this case, and that the recital of ownership in a policy of insurance is not such a technical expression as amounts to warranty under our law.

Where A. insures property with B., who is the agent of the company, and pays B. an additional per cent. on the premium on account of carpenter's work being carried on in the completion of an adjoining building, and such fact is not expressed in the face of the policy.

HELD, That they did not word the policy. When a building is insured and an adjoining one has some hazardous business carried on therein, though such fact increases the risk it is not necessary to express it in the face of th epolicy when it is known to the agent.

Where A. insures property, and in the policy, carpenter's trade being carried on within the building is denominated hazardous, and the proof is that no carpenter's work ... done within the building insured, ... was being carried on not as a trade. ... out for the purpose of erecting another ... building:

HELD, Under the fact... that this did not violate the condition... of the policy and render it void. When on the trial the Court permitted, the proof of loss to go to the jury, as evidence of the ownership.

HELD, Such use of this testimony was not authorized; that the rule is, the proof of loss by claimant under his policy, may go to the jury to show his compliance with the terms of the policy, but is not evidence of ownership, loss, or value, but such must be established by proof under the rules of evidence. But as in this case the evidence is complete and uncontroverted upon the point, we do not regard it sufficient to set aside the payment.

When the Judge charged the jury, in his opinion, A had an insurable interest.

HELD, That this was an improper mode of presenting the case. He ought to have called the attention of the jury to the facts, and then stated: "If you believe, &c., &c., then in the opinion of the Court, under the law, you will find that he had an insurable interest." But, under the facts in this case, we regard the statement rather as a legal conclusion, than an opinion on the facts, and as the case was clearly made out, we do not think it sufficient ground to reverse the judgment.

Judgment affirmed.

T. M. Norwood for plaintiff in error.

Hartridge & Chisolm for defendant.

Jacob Godfrey, et. al., vs. Robert D. Walker, et. al. Possessory warrant for church property. From Chatham.

LOCHRANE, C. J.

It appears from the record, that on the 24th of September, 1845, a deed was made to the land in dispute (upon which Andrew Chapel was afterwards erected) to trustees for the use of the colored members of the M. E. Church South, within the jurisdiction of the General Conference of such church, and that a large portion of the congregation using said house of worship dissevered their connection with the M. E. Church South and united with the African M. E. Church, and the trustees at the time permitted the occupancy of the church to such organization; and afterwards, in 1865, the parties presented their memorial to the Georgia Conference of the M. E. Church South, stating that they had associated themselves with the African M. E. Church, and requesting that this property be ceded to them; and the Conference replied that the titles to the house of worship used by colored charges of their church was vested in trustees, and that they had no power to convey the property to any other organization whatever, but recommended that the colored people who were lately members "of our church" be permitted to use them to worship in. And such action was properly notified to the parties, and they continued in their use of the church; and that in September, 1868, a notice to quit was served, responded to in January, 1869, declining to give up the possession until compelled by law; and the chairman of the board of trustees made affidavit under the 4005th section of the Revised Code, to which a counter affidavit was filed under section 4007; and issue joined, and the Judge charged the jury, in effect, that except it appeared that the defendants were members of the M. E. Church South, that the plaintiffs were entitled to recover.

HELD, Under the facts in this case, that the title to the property vested by the need in the trustees for the use of the colored members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, and just as soon as the members severed this connection, which was perfected by their uniting with the African Methodist Church, that instant they surrendered all legal right as beneficiaries to the use or occupancy of the church, and all claim except at the will or sufferance of the legal owners.

HELD AGAIN, Under the facts in the case, that their occupancy after notice of the permission to occupy, constituted them tenants by suffrance under the Code to the legal owners. They were lawfully in possession before they ceased membership, and their remaining by permission of the lawful owners afterwards, was under the changed relation, established, by their severance from the membership of the church, and did not relate back to their original possession as members of the Methodist Episcopal Church South. They were not tresspassers for they had permission, nor were they owners for they had no color of title. They were not tenants at will, for they were not in under contract, and their status was that of tenants by suffrance, and subject to be removed under the 4005 section, Revised Code of this State.

Judgment affirmed.

A. W. Stone for defendants in error.

Alfred B. Smith, Hartridge & Chesoln for defendants.

Robert Stafford vs. Hugh W. Mercer, et al. Trespass vi. et. armis, from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

The seizing of cotton and provisions on Cumberland Island, on the Georgia coast, by the military authorities of the Confederate States during the late civil war, to prevent the same from falling into the possession of approaching United States forces, was an act of war, and the individuals engaged in moving the same and transporting them to a place of safety within the Confederate lines, are not liable as trespassers to the owners of the property.

An action of trespass vi. et. armis will not lie against the clerk of a warehouse man, who, on the lawful receipt of goods in store for another, sells them on the advice of his employer, but without the consent of or authority from the owner.

Judgment affirmed.

Andrew Sloan for plaintiff in error.

Thos. E. Loyd, Hartridge & Chisolm for defendants.

A. W. Stone vs. Henry Wetmore. Bill for Injunction and receiver, from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

Pending a controversy under a quo warranto against one in possession of a public office, a court of equity has no jurisdiction to enjoin the de facto officer from receiving the fees of the office, nor to appoint a receiver to take and hold the same until the controversy is settled.

Judgment affirmed.

Wm. Dougherty, A. Sloan, A. W. Stone, for plaintiff in error.

Hartridge & Chisolm, Jackson, Lawton & Bassenger, for defendant.

John R. Burch, et al., vs. The Mayor and Aldermen of Savannah. Equity, from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

A retail dealer in goods, wares and merchandise, who is also a retailer of spirituous liquors, and who has paid his license as such retailer of spirituous liquors to the corporation of the city of Savannah, is not exempt from the special tax laid by the city of Savannah upon retail dealers other than retailers of spirituous liquors, nor is such special tax upon retail dealers generally an illegal tax under the Constitution and laws of the State.

Judgment affirmed.

Rufus E. Lester, for plaintiffs in error.

E. J. Harden, Hartridge & Chisolm, for defendants.

Lymus Holloway, vs. F. S. Brinkley. Attachment, from City Court of Savannah.

WARNER, J.

When a contract was made by a freedman and a landlord, to make a crop for one year, by which the landlord was to furnish the land and stock, and the freedman to work the same, and to receive for his labor one-half of the crop made thereon:

HELD, That such a contract did not make them partners, and that if the landlord refused, or neglected to pay or deliver to the freedman, the one-half of the crop made on the land, but appropriated the same to his own use, the freedman could make out an account against the landlord for the value of his share of the crop, and enforce the same by attachment, or otherwise. It is the duty of the courts to see that this class of contracts are performed in good faith on the part of the landlord to the laborer who makes the crop on his land when the laborer performs his part of the contract.

Judgment revised.

Tompkins & Gerrard, by A. Sloan, for plaintiff in error.

J. Hartridge, R. E. Lester for defendant.

Solomon Cohen vs. John E. Ward. Assumpsit, from Chatham.

WARNER, J.

An action was brought by the plaintiff against the defendant to recover damages for a breach of an implied warranty of title to fifty shares of Central Railroad stock, alleged to have been sold by the defendant to the plaintiff in the month of April, 1863, and on the trial, it appears from the evidence in the record, that the defendant sold ... to or exchanged with the plaintiff ... one hundred shares of Central Railro... stock for twenty thousand dollars of ... Confederate States eight per cent. bonds. The contract was consummated betw... the parties by the delivery and ... transfer of the railroad stock to the pl... ...ntiff, and the delivery and transfer of the Confederate bonds to the defendant, in pursuance of that contract; but the defendant did not have the title to fifty shares of the railroad stock transferred by him to the plaintiff, the title thereto being in other parties. The jury, under the charge of the court, found a verdict for the plaintiff for two thousand dollars in gold. The defendant made a motion for a new trial on several grounds of error alleged in the charge of the court to the jury, and in refusing to charge as requested, and because the verdict was against the law and the evidence. The court overruled the motion for a new trial, and defendant excepted.

HELD, That under the pleadings and evidence in the case, the plaintiff was entitled to recover from the defendant for a breach of the implied warranty of title to the fifty shares of railroad stock sold and transferred by the defendant to the plaintiff under the contract, to which, he had no title, and it made no difference under the law of this State, whether it was a sale of stock for bonds, or a barter, or exchange of stock, for bonds:

HELD ALSO, That as this was a confederate contract, the measure of damages for a breach of the warranty of title to the fifty shares of stock, should have been left to the jury under the provisions of the ordinance of 1865, to have been decided by them according to the principles of equity as applicable to the contract between the parties:

HELD FURTHER, That although the court gave in charge to the jury the whole of the ordinance of 1865; yet, in other parts of the charge, the jury were restricted to the value of the confederate bonds to the time the contract was made. The court charged the jury, that "confederate currency was a medium of exchange, and that as parties contracted on the basis of the value of that currency any injured party to such contract has the right to recover, not confederate currency, but lawful money, to the extent of the value which both parties by their contract, either expressed or implied, placed on the confederate currency, at the time and place the contract was made: So, gentlemen, I say to you, that confederate bonds had their value, and if parties agreed on the value of property and chose to take the market value of these bonds as the the standard by which they valued the property sold, I can see no reason why the amounts thus fixed upon by the parties, cannot be recovered as the price and value of the thing or article sold." Again, the court charged the jury in conclusion: "Plaintiff alleges, that defendant warranted the title to one hundred shares of stock, and that the title to fifty shares has failed. If the title to fifty shares has failed, he has the right to be paid the amount of money he gave for those shares, without reference to the other shares, the title to which may be good. The parties fixed the value of the one hundred shares, and the defendant cannot now say that fifty shares were worth more than that, he then, at the time of the contract, said his one hundred shares were worth." If the court had done nothing more than give in charge to the jury the ordinances of 1865, as set forth in the record, in regard to the measure of damages, there could have been no complaint in relation to that point in the case, but the court did not leave that question to the jury under the provisions of the ordinance, but restricted them as to the value of the bonds at the time the contract was made, or to the value placed on the bonds by the parties, at the time the contract was made; the jury might, or might not, have believed that to have been the proper measure of damages according to the principles of equity under the ordinance, in view of the contract made between the parties, and it was error for the court to have restricted the jury as to the measure of damages which the plaintiff was entitled to recover, to the value of the bonds at the time the contract was made, or to the value placed on them by the parties at the time the contract was made, as was ruled by this court in Evans vs. Walker (35th Ga. Rep. 117) and other cases. It is true, the court in this case, did give the whole ordinance in charge to the jury, but the effect thereof was practically neutralized and emasculated, by the other objectionable portions of the charge.

Judgment Reversed.

Thos. E. Loyd, Jackson, Lawton & Bassinger, Hartridge & Chisolm for defendants.

Wm. A. Couper, et. al., Jas. F. Rowe, Ordinary. Injunction, from Glynn.

WARNER, J.

This is a bill filed by the complainants as citizens and taxpayers of the county of Glynn, in behalf of themselves and other citizens and taxpayers of said county, against the Ordinary, Tax Receiver and Tax Collector thereof, praying for an injunction to restrain the collection of an extraordinary tax of one hundred and fifty per cent. on the State tax, for county purposes, as provided by an act of the General Assembly of the 11th of March, 1869. The injunction was refused by the presiding Judge of the court below and the complainants excepted. The act of 1869 authorizes the Ordinary of said county, by and with the consent of two-thirds of the grand jury, to lay an additional tax on the State tax of one hundred and fifty per cent. for county purposes, and repeals all conflicting laws. It is not pretended that, at the time that this extraordinary tax of one hundred and fifty per cent. was levied by the Ordinary for county purposes, that two-thirds of the grand jury of the county had consented that it should be levied, but the Ordinary claims the right to levy this tax under the 545th section of the Code, because the grand jury, at its last sitting, failed to recommend said tax, or to take any action in the matter.

HELD, That the Ordinary of Glynn county, under the general law of the State, had only the right (in case the Grand Jury failed, or refused to recommend the levy of an extra tax for county purposes) to levy such tax, not exceeding fifty per cent on the State tax, provided, the levy of such extra tax was necessary to discharge any judgment against the county, or any debt for the payment whereof there was a mandamus against the county, or for the necessary current expenses of the county for that year, and that the order levying such extra tax, should clearly and distinctly specify the objects for which it is levied.

HELD FURTHER, That the Ordinary of Glynn county had no authority, without the consent of two thirds of the Grand Jury, to levy the extraordinary tax of one hundred and fifty per cent under the Act of 1869, and that the court below erred in not granting the injunction restraining the collection of the same.

Judgment reversed.

Harris & Davenport, by Collier & Wynatt, for plaintiff in error.

Harris & Williams, for defendant.

Thomas M. Jones, trustee, vs. Wm. H. Wiltberger. Assumpsit from Chatham.

McCAY, J.

In a suit against a stockholder of a Savings Bank by a depositor on his individual liability for the ultimate redemption of the deposits in proportion to the amount of the stock held by him in the bank, the stockholder may defend the suit by showing that previously to the commencement of the suit he has discharged his obligation by paying to other depositors than the plaintiff an amount equal to the full proportion his stock bears to the whole amount due the depositor.

2. Such stockholder cannot, after any one depositor has commenced suit against him in his liability, defeat said suit by paying other depositors than the plaintiff, even though he pay to the full amount of his liability. Such payment after notice of the suit is in fraud of the plaintiff's claim, and contrary to the policy of the act creating the liability, and if allowed would practically defeat the object of the Legislature in imposing the obligation.

In such suits, the production of the original evidence of deposit, or the certificate of the assignee of the bank of the indebtedness, with the oath of the assignee that the stockholder has surrendered to him such evidences of deposit, with the receipts thereon, to the stockholder, of the owners thereof, is evidence to go to the jury to prove the payment of the same by the stockholder.

WARNER, J., concurring.

The 16th section of the charter of the company declares that "the persons composing said company shall be held and bound in their private capacity in proportion to the number of shares held by each and every one of them, for the ultimate redemption of all deposits made with said company, or which may remain unpaid by said company, during the time that any of such persons shall remain stockholders." After an assignment of the assets of the company to an assignee, and after the commencement of the suit by the plaintiff as a depositor, against the defendant as a stockholder, to recover the amount of his deposit with the company, the defendant purchased from or extinguished in the hands of other depositors in the company, an amount equal to the amount of stock held by him in the company and surrendered the same to the assignee of the company, and claims to be discharged from all liability to the plaintiff, on the ground that he has redeemed an amount of deposits due by the company equal to his liability under the charter as a stockholder.

Inasmuch as it does not appear in the record when the claims of the general depositors were purchased or extinguished by the defendant, or what he paid for the same, but having made the purchase or extinguishment thereof since the assignment of the assets of the company, and since the commencement of the suit against him, such purchase or extinguishment of the claims of other depositors under such circumstances, is not a redemption of the deposits made with the company which remain unpaid, according to the true intent and meaning of the charter of the company. The true intent and meaning of the charter is that each stockholder shall be liable for the redemption of the deposits made in said company, to the amount of the number of shares held by him and the value thereof, as fixed by the charter. When the defendant shall have shown that he has bona fide redeemed the deposits of the company, to that amount including the deposit of the plaintiff now sued for, that will be such a redemption of the deposits of the company as the charter contemplates, for the benefit and protection of the depositors of the company. The plaintiff had a right of action as a depositor against the defendant as a stockholder at the time of the commencement of his suit, which cannot be defeated by the purchase or extinguishment of the claims of other depositors in the company by the defendant subsequent to the commencement of such suit, as set forth in the record. The assignee of the corporation is a trustee of the assets thereof, for the benefit of the creditors of the corporation, but such assignee is not the representative of the individual stockholders in their individual capacity. By the charter of the company, each and every one of the stockholders thereof, is bound in his private capacity for the ultimate redemption of all deposits made with the company in proportion to the number of shares held by him—that is to say, he is individually liable therefor. If a defendant was the owner of property of the value of $20,000, and was individually indebted by note, to several creditors for that amount, and one of those creditors should institute suit against him on one of his notes for eight hundred dollars, and after the commencement of such suit, that defendant should voluntarily go to his several other creditors, and pay off or extinguish his indebtedness to them to the value of his property, would the fact that he had done so, constitute any legal defense to the action of his creditor who had sued him on his eight hundred dollar note? That is the principle contended for in this case by the defendant.

LOCHRANE, C. J. dissenting.

When W. was a stockholder to the amount of one-tenth of the capital stock in a savings company, and the company was insolvent and in the hands of an assignee, and Jones brought his suit against W upon the statutory liability imposed by the charter, and upon the trial Jones showed he was a depositor and the amount due him, and W showed that he extinguished his statutory liability by the surrender for cancellation to the bank, of debts due depositors to an amount greater than his proportionate liability:

HELD, That W was not bound to pay any specific sum of money, that he was bound only, to redeem his proportionate part of the debts due by the bank, and when he done this, it made no difference how he did it, when done he was discharged.

HELD AGAIN, That a suit pending or instituted does not vest a legal right in the plaintiff to the recovery of the individual debt sued for, that the statutory liability to redeem is not an individual contract of suretyship with each depositor, and that the stockholder has the right at any time before judgement, to redeem an amount of the debts equal to the obligation imposed on him by the charter, and such redemption will operate as an extinguishment of his statutory liability, and constituted a good defense to any action under the charter brought or to be brought, and W would be liable for the costs in such case.

A. W. Stone, for plaintiff in error.

TENNESSEE.

NASHVILLE, May 2.—On complaint of Geo. Carpenter and wife, colored, Major Compton, conductor on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, and others, were indicted in the Federal Court, now sitting here, for forcibly ejecting them from the ladies' car on said road. Defendant's counsel moved to quash the indictment, and after argument Judge Twigg gave his decision in favor of defendants. The ground of the decision was that common carriers had a right to regulate their own affairs. He decided, further, that the plaintiff might sue for damages, the jury to determine whether their rights have been infringed.

PRUSSIA.

BERLIN, May 2.—In the German Parliament to-day a bill incorporating Alsace and Lorraine with the Empire came before House. Prince Bismarck re-stated the arguments on which the measure was based; the annexation of the provinces to Germany was necessary to give her a bulwark against the recurrence of French aggression, cases of which had been so frequent in times past. One instance of comparatively recent date was cited, on the 6th of August, 1866, France sent to Berlin an ultimatum demanding the cession of the Province of Mayence, and the illness of the Emperor alone prevented hostility; then during the late war, the foreign powers proposed the neutralization of Alsace and Lorraine, but that would be insufficient for Germans, and could not be thought of. As for the inhabitants, if they are not still true to their fatherland, said the Prince, in conclusion, we shall strive to win them back.

The bill was referred to committee.

NOTICE.

ATHENS, GEORGIA, January 18, 1871.

AT THE REGULAR MEETING OF THE Alumni of the University of Georgia, in August last, the members then present, while rejoicing in the high position to which the University had attained, and recalling the revered memories of very many who in days of yore had been students at this noble Institution, were saddened by the solemn thought that, as year after year passed away, some of her noblest sons were removed from life's busy scenes.

Moved by sweet memories of the past, they desired to gather the scattered brotherhood once more around the shrine of their much-loved Alma Mater, and there, by joining hand and heart, endeavor to awaken fresh zeal in the breast of every son in her behalf.

Actuated by this desire, they unanimously resolved to have an Alumni Dinner. A Committee was appointed to solicit contributions, and make all necessary arrangements for this purpose.

Acting under this resolution, we, the Committee, invite all the Alumni to be present on that occasion, and respectfully request them to send immediately, by Post Office order, or by Express, the contributions they may wish to make for this purpose.

After investigation, we find that it will require at least Five Dollars from each Alumnus, to fully carry out our designs.

The Trustees, with that wisdom which has ever marked all their deliberations in behalf of the University, heartily endorsed the resolutions of the Alumni, and set apart Monday, the 31st of July, exclusively for the exercises of that body, on which day the dinner will take place.

Should the Committee be prevented from carrying out the resolutions of the Alumni, the money contributed will be promptly returned.

Please enclose contributions to Dr. H. R. J. Long, Secretary and Treasurer of Committee.

Very respectfully,
W. W. LUMPKIN,

LIGHTNING.

KIRKWOOD, MAY 1, 1871.

MR. A. C. LADD: Last night, at 1 o'clock, my family was startled and terrified by the noise and crash of a stroke of lightning passing from the lightning rod through the shingles and tearing the wood-work and plastering, to a considerable extent, in three rooms. My object in writing you is, that you will come out at once and take off the rod now on the house, the Johnson or Triangular Copper, and replace it with one of your best solid rods. The insulation was apparently good, and every part of the copper rod now upon the house in good order, but it proved insufficient, as the lightning left the rod at the point of connection last night. Respectfully,

Beersheba Springs,

GRUNDY COUNTY, TENN.

THIS property having been purchased by the undersigned, and thoroughly refitted and furnished, will be opened to the public for the ensuing season, on the 15th of June next.

For the benefit of those persons who have never visited this, before the war, celebrated Watering Place, we beg leave to say that for the excellency of its Chalybeate and Freestone Waters, grandeur of scenery, and purity of atmosphere, it is not surpassed, if equaled, by any similar establishment in the South. The location is upon one of the highest points of the Cumberland Mountains, within a few hours' ride of the University of the South, and of the large Swiss colony recently established in this State.

Visitors leaving Huntsville, Chattanooga or Nashville by the morning train, will arrive at the Springs via Tullohoma and McMinnville, on the evening of the same day.

Parties wishing to engage rooms for the season, can do so by addressing us at Nashville until the 15th instant, after that time at Beersheba Springs.

ROSADALIS.

The Great American Health Restorer, purifies the blood and cures Scofula, Syphilis, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Diseases of Women, and all Chronic Affections of the Blood, Liver and Kidneys. Recommended by the Medical Faculty and many thousands of our best citizens.

Read the testimony of Physicians and patients who have used Rosadalis; send for our Rosadalis Guide to Health Book, or Almanac for this year, which we publish for gratuitous distribution; it will give you much valuable information.

Dr. R. W. Carr, of Baltimore, says:

I take pleasure in recommending your Rosadalis as a powerful alterative. I have seen it used in two cases with happy results—one in a case of secondary syphilis, in which the patient pronounced himself cured after having taken five bottles of your medicine. The other is a case of Scrofula of long standing, which is rapidly improving under its use, and the indications are that the patient will soon recover. I have carefully examined the formula by which your Rosadalis is made, and find it an excellent compound of alterative ingredients.

Dr. Sparks, of Nicholasville, Ky., says he has used Rosadalis in cases of Scrofula and Secondary Syphilis with satisfactory results—as a cleaner of the Blood I know no better remedy.

Samuel G. McFadden, Murfreesboro, Tenn., says:

I have used seven bottles of Rosadalis, and am entirely cured of Rheumatism; send me four bottles, as I wish it for my brother, who has scrofulous sore eyes.

Benjamin Bechtol, of Lima, Ohio, writes I have suffered for twenty years with an inveterate eruption over my whole body; a short time since I purchased a bottle of Rosadalis and it effected a perfect cure.

Rosadalis is sold by all Druggists.

THE CONSTITUTION job office has ample facilities for doing job wok promptly.

Julia F. Williams applies to Judge Pittman for letters of administration on the estate of Elizabeth Davis.

Jerome Bearse, administrator on the estate of B. F. Plaster, applies to Judge Pittman for leave to sell the real estate belonging to the deceased.

The best established and most prosperous segar store in the city is offered for sale.

A committee of the Alumni of the University of Georgia, appeal to all the Alumni to forward contributions for an Alumni dinner on the 31st day of July. It is to be hoped that every one of the Alumni will not only forward their contributions but attend the dinner.

ATLANTA has a vinegar factory.

GEORGIA Railroad stock seems to be in great demand just now.

WE were pleased to see yesterday the genial face of Rev. W. M. Crumley in the city.

THE City Hall square will soon be fenced in, and the square planted in peas.

ATLANTA was visited by another heavy thunder and rain storm last night.

THE fine for being guilty of gambling seems to be fixed in Fulton Superior Court at $200. Cheap.

THE indications are that the Holley system of Water-Works will be inaugurated in this city at an early day.

THE young man who threw a "magnolia" on the stage to Nilsson, now believes that "hope deferred maketh the heart sick."

SEE the card of A. C. Ladd, relative to lightning rods. Now is the time that buildings need protection.

THE ATLANTA INTELLIGENCER was not sold yesterday at Sheriff's sale as advertised. We learn that Judge Whitaker enjoined the sale.

A RESOLUTION will be offered at the next meeting of Council covering the public school question. Brains are at work to settle the matter.

THE Sasseen House (formerly the Cannon House) is under the charge of that popular landlord, E. R. Sasseen. His legion of friends gladly welcome him back.

THE Baptist Sunday-school picnic to Norcross to-morrow, Thursday, 4th inst., start from the Air-Line depot at 8 o'clock. For the round trip 25 and 50 cents.

YESTERDAY a negro woman was found guilty of receiving stolen goods and concealing them. A murder case will probably come up to-day in Fulton Superior Court.

IN consequence of the heavy fall of rain last night, the lecture of Rev. Dr. Dixon, at the First Baptist Church, was postponed until Monday night next. All the tickets will be good for that occasion.

AT a meeting of the directors of Atlanta and Blue Ridge Railroad Company, held at the office of H. I. Kimball, on the 25th ult., the Hon. Mark A. Cooper was unanimously elected President, vice George Cook, Esq., resigned.

SIGNIFICANT SIGNS.—One of our "hopeful" Whitehall street merchants is getting in a large stock of baby carriages, dollar engines, and a general stock of toys. And still he is not happy, though hope dwells in his bosom.

THE vote on the subscription of $250,000 by the city to the Atlanta and Savannah Railroad yesterday, stood 663 for, and only seven against, out of 670 votes polled. There was really no opposition manifested to the subscription.

COL. G. W. ADAIR sold at the Court-house yesterday, the Tomlinson house, on Ivy street, to R. J. Lowry and M. O. Markham, for $6,800. He also sold 150 shares of Georgia Railroad stock, at an average of 102 87-100, and 170 shares of Atlanta and West Point Railroad stock for 87.

T. F. GRUBB's fine two story dwelling house, about four or five miles from Thomaston, Upson county, Ga., was destroyed by fire on Saturday night last. The fire, it is said, was occasioned by a box of hot ashes left by carelessness. Loss about $4,000

CLARK's Silver Band from Marietta, came down yesterday morning to go with the picnic party of the First Baptist Sunday-school to Norcross. The picnic having been postponed, they remained over, and yesterday evening discoursed most excellent music at the H. I. Kimball House.

DISTRESSING ACCIDENT.—Mrs. James Simmons and a daughter of Mr. A. H. Brown, were both fatally injured by being thrown from a buggy, six miles from Thomaston, Ga., on Monday last. We regret to learn that Mrs. Simmons was seriously mashed by being thrown against a stump. Miss Brown's skull is fractured, and the lives of both are despaired of.

PICNIC TO OGLETHORPE PARK.—If it is not raining this morning the children of the Methodist Sunday-schools in this city will have a fine time out at Oglethorpe Park. We are pleased to see by the programme that the committee on arrangements instructed their chairman to invite the Pastors and Superintendents of all Sunday-schools connected with the Evangelical Churches in the city to be present. This is the right spirit, and we commend them for it.

WE learn, with great pleasure, that the energetic proprietors of the H. I. Kimball House have perfected arrangements to have a band there every evening during the summer months. They are determined to make their house a great summer resort. They have also made arrangements by which the baggage of guests intending to leave, can be checked at the house one hour before the departure of the train This will be carried out with the promptness and accuracy of that veteran baggage man, W. J. Ballard.

CAPRON'S TURBINE WATER-WHEEL.—The buckets of this wheel are made separate and movable, and can be readily polished, giving ten to fifteen per cent more power than the ordinary rough cast buckets. Should a bucket be broken, another can be put in with but little trouble and expense. A part of the top of the case is made detachable, so, in case the gate should ever get broken or obstructed with blocks of wood or any other obstructions, this part of the scroll can be readily removed, giving free access to fit in another gate, or clean any rubbish from the scroll or wheel without moving the wheel from its foundation or detaching the scroll from the water-box, which would have to be done with all other scroll wheels. Nothing but the shaft passes through the wheel, which gives a free discharge for the dead water.

STRAWBERRY and ice cream festival at the H. I. Kimball House. It is with no ordinary pleasure that we call the attention of our readers to the festival to be given by the ladies of the Central Presbyterian Sewing Society. They are known by their good deeds; this, there are many who can readily verify. A little over a year ago they organized their Association, and in a quiet way aided by a liberal patronage at a similar festival they raised a handsome sum of money, and erected a beautiful monument to the memory of their much beloved and highly esteemed pastor, Rev. R. K Porter.

Their object now is to raise funds to build an iron railing in front of their church, which they are much in want of. They have no soliciting committees, and expect no one who attend their festival to pay for anything they don't get. We have an insight to their programme for the evening, their tables will be loaded with all the delicacies of the season, which will be served out by young ladies and matrons. Will our readers excuse us for asking those who feel inclined, to send in their contributions Thursday morning. We ask in their behalf, and for the good of the cause, a liberal patronage; help them to build an enclosure around the "Lord's Holy Temple," that will be a standing monument to their memory, when some of them shall have past to the "Temple" not made with hands, eternal.

Committee of Arrangements.—Col. E. Y. Clarke, Mr. H. F. Emery, Mr. T. J. Phillips, Mr. W. W. Compton, Mr. —— Ketchum, Mr. G. H. Force, Mr. Robert Wyly, Mr. —— Thompson, Mr. W. C. Dodson, Mr. Howell Jackson, Mr. H. T. Phillips.

AT a called meeting of Council held last night at the Mayor's office, (there being a sufficient number present to ensure the adoption of the following resolutions, offered by Alderman Cassin, at the next regular meeting), the following was offered:

Whereas, It is believed to be the interest of the people of Atlanta, that a Fair should be held at Oglethorpe Park in October, 1871, and whereas it is believed to be the wish of the people that a Fair should be held; therefore, be it

Resolved, That in order to ensure the holding of a Fair, by giving aid to an association of citizens, who propose to inaugurate measures at an early day to make the contemplated Fair a success, that the Finance Committee of the Atlanta Agricultural and Industrial Association be authorized to draw upon the city for $7,000, in such amounts and at such times as, in their judgments, may be necessary to the preparation for holding such Fair.

Resolved, That this appropriation is made and accepted with the understanding and agreement between the Council and said Committee, that after the expenses attending the holding of said Fair is paid, a pro rata share of the proceeds be returned to the city within thirty days thereafter.

Resolved, That said Finance Committee be requested to enter into an agreement in writing with the Finance Committee of Council to this effect.

THE ladies of the Church Aid and Parsonage Society of the 1st Methodist E. Church South, Atlanta, Ga., beg leave to present the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the thanks of this society are hereby tendered to Mr. J. C. Courtney, Professors Spahr, Hensler, Freyer, the Atlanta Quartette Club, Professor Freyer's String Band, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. Snook, Mrs. Westmoreland, Mrs. Weems, Misses Evans and Latimer, and other ladies and gentlemen who rendered such valuable service in our recent concert of the 28th instant.

Resolved, That we offer our thanks to the daily newspapers for complimentary notices and other favors, which we shall not soon forget.

Resolved, That we shall ever kindly remember the polite attention of Mr. Connally, manager of the DeGive Opera House.

Resolved, That we hereby tender our grateful acknowledgments to the public for their generous patronage both of our Strawberry Festival and Concert.

MRS. W. T. COLQUITT, President.

MISS ELLA HAMMOND, Rec. Sec.

SAVANNAH AND ATLANTA RAILROAD SUBSCRIPTION.—Mr. Local; A severe indisposition will prevent anything more than a suggestion in answer to "P's" article yesterday.

My "inquiring mind," as he is pleased to term it, is not satisfied with the authority quoted by "P." to show the right of the City Council under that to order an election on the subscription question. I was not aware, when I wrote my first article, of the existence of that clause in the railroad charter. The "question" to which I said I had "given much attention," was the general power of the City Council over subscriptions, etc.

But "P" admits the correctness of my view, and simply replies, "we have the necessary legislative authority." I say sec. 7 of his charter is totally inoperative for want of a provision in it for a "fair legal election by the qualified voters." How can it be ascertained whether a "majority of the qualified voters" have voted, if there is no penalty for illegal voting, etc There is clearly no such penalty attached to this, either by reference in this act to the general State laws on the subject, laws governing the city elections, or otherwise. Such a reference might perhaps have satisfied the constitutional requirement; but there being no such provision for penalties in this act, I would be glad to "receive the necessary attention" from "P." as promised.

On principle, my position is analagous to the law of compensation in the exercise of the right of eminent domain. There the chief and imperative requirement of the law is that "ample compensation" must be provided for in the body of the act. Here the protection of the rights of minorities is a special trust confided to the Legislature, and they must show in the act that they have exercised it, or the act is inoperative.

On authority, my position is sustained by an almost unbroken current of decisions in cases arising under similar constitutional provisions in the Northwestern States.

I trust "P" can explain all this away S. D.

"SURE POP."—What is "Sure Pop?" It is certain death to rats, mice, roaches and bugs. It is put up in sealed tin boxes, and retains its freshness and strength until it is used, when it is distributed according to directions about any premises it will unfailingly attract to it all the rats thereabouts. They eat it and enjoy it, and after feasting to satisfaction they evidently come to a realizing sense that they are mortal and that their time to die has come; under this conviction they invariably quit their old haunts and hastily seek a resting and a dying place as far from home as they are able to go. Prof. Isaacsen, the inventor of this celebrated rat killer, was in town. Give it a trial all of you who wish to rid your houses of rats, and as sure as you do you will be more than satisfied and gratified, you will pronounce the Professor a public benefactor as he is "Sure Pop." apr30-deod1w

BEWARE.—The public in general are cautioned to look out for the spurious articles put up in imitation of and substitutes for Simmons' Liver Regulator. Buy only from respectable druggists, and see that it is put up in square packages and has the signatures of A. Q. Simmons and J. H. Zelin & Co., on its side; all others are frauds upon the public. Beware! apr30-d1w&w1t

PREVENTIVE MEDICATION.—A radical change has been introduced in the practice of medicine. Physicians have ceased to torture and prostrate their patients. Instead of pulling down, they build up; instead of assaulting nature, they assist her. Cupping, leeching, blistering, venesection, calomel, antimony, stupifying narcotics, and rasping purgatives, once the favorite resources of the faculty, and now rarely resorted to even by the most dogmatic members of the profession. The old creed was that disease was something which must be expelled by violent artificial means, irrespective of the wear and tear of the vital organization in the process. The new creed recognizes the improvement of the general health as essential to the cure of all local ailments. Hence it is that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the most potent vegetable tonic that pharmacy has ever brought to the assistance of nature in her struggles with disease, has been cordially approved by practitioners of the modern school. It is pleasant to reflect that reason and philosophy have at last been victorious over the errors of the past, and that thousands, and ten of thousands, of human beings are alive and well to day who would indubitably be moldering in their graves, had they been subjected to the pains and penalties which were deemed orthodox and indispensable thirty or forty years ago.

Preventative medication was scarcely thought of then; but now it is considered of paramount importance, and the celebrity of the standard invigorant, alterative and restorative of the age, (a title which Hostetter's Bitters have fairly earned by their long career of success,) is mainly due to its efficiency as a protective preparation.

A course of the Bitters is urgently recommended as a safe and certain antidote to intermittent and remittent fevers, diarrhœa, dysentery and other maladies.

SIMMONS'

LIVER

REGULATOR!

LIVER DISEASE and Indigestion prevail to a greater extent than probably any other malady, and relief is always anxiously sought after. If the Liver is Regulated in its action, health is almost invariably secured. Indigestion, or want of action in the Liver, causes Headache, Constipation, Jaundice, Pain in the Shoulders, Cough, Dizziness, Sour Stomach, bad taste in the mouth, bilious attacks, palpitation of the heart, depression of spirits, or the blues, and a hundred other symptoms, SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR is the best remedy that has ever been discovered for these ailments. It acts midly, effectually, and being a simple vegetable compound, can do no injury in any quantities that it may be taken. It is harmless in every way; it has been used for forty years, and hundreds of the good and great from all parts of the country will vouch for its virtues, viz:

Hon. Alexander H. Stephens, of Georgia.
Bishop Pierce, of Georgia.
Jno. Gill Shorter, ex Governor of Alabama.

AN INCIDENT OF THE WAR.

BY MRS. BETTIE KEYES HUTTER.

"Now brace your heart!" thus the low words came
From lips of a beardless boy;
"You are not playing an idle game,
Nor is that gun but a toy!

"Don't speak a word; for a little lack
Of talk may do us some good:
A Yankee shot in a soldier's back,
Sometimes is not understood.

"Perhaps behind us, a riding scout
Is seeking a place to camp;
They'll soon be posting their pickets out—
I think I can hear their tramp.

"You are but ten, and I am sixteen,
With fever from sole to crown;
But what of that? if we stand between
This raid and the sleeping town.

"We're only boys! Oh, for fifty men—
Just fifty—with us to-night!
We'd show these impudent raiders then,
A braver and bolder fight.

"What if we die ere the wane of night,
The Father with sleepless eye,
Will not forget, in the realms of light,
We dared for the South to die!"

"Who is that, John? A Yankee! Well,
For him I will do my best!"
A sharp report!—and the picket fell—
A rifle ball in his breast.

"You shot too quick! but load up your gun,
For others will soon be here.
There they are! I'll take the foremost one—
You aim at him in the rear."

These whispered words were but scarcely spoke
Ere missiles of death were sped
From boyish hands, with a telling stroke,
And the Yankees turned and fled!

The wounded man by the rotten log—
Their comrade shot at his post—
They left to die like a useless dog
And forgot their evening's boast!

The boast to "burn up the village there;
To leave not a brick unturned;"
They laughed while thinking of our despair,
At seeing our homesteads burned!

The morning came, and save here and there
A knapsack or sword belt lay,
We had not known where the Yankees were,
Or whither they took their way.

A woman's wit, and those stripping boys,
Their boasted purpose had marr'd;
She made them think when they heard the noise
Of firing 'twas Forrest's Guard!

"What boots it now?" has somebody said;
"They conquered our land at last;
For freedom's hopes and her visions dead
Are buried with the past.

"What is it now what our women did,
Or boys who forgot their mimes?"
Ah! something bright for the South lies hid,
Perhaps, in the future times!

SUPREME COURT OF GEORGIA—Morning Session, May 2.—After delivering opinions the Court took up the injunction cause from Bibb county, which had been sat down for hearing.

It is Patrick Payton vs. Henry J. Lamar, et al.

Lanier & Anderson for plaintiff in error.

Lyon, DeGraffenreid & Irvin for defendant.

Pending the reading of the record, Court adjourned till three o'clock P. M.

Literary.

Among the new novels published in Germany are to be mentioned specially: Brachvolgel's "Glancarty," Hacelaender's "Petral," Spielhagen's "German Pioneers," a tale founded on episodes from the early emigration of Germans to the State of New York, several new novelettes by Fannie Lewald, "Mexico," an historical romance by Frederick Gerstaecker, Louisa Muhlbach's "Emperor Joseph and his Landsknecht," "The Victims of Religious Fanaticism," Edmund Heofer's "Land and Sea," Robert Waldmuller's "Legacy of the Millionnaire," and Berthold Auerback's "Mummy-Seed."

Only nineteen novels were published in France during the war. Most of them appeared in Lyons, Bordeaux, and Marseilles; among these were four by Ponson der Ferrail, who died in January last at Bordeaux. Quite a number of French works appeared during the war at Geneva, Turin, and Milan, and in Germany. The Brussels publishers also displayed an extraordinary activity after the siege of Paris had commenced.

"The Young Housewife's Counsellor and Friend," is the title of a valuable treatise on the art of housekeeping, including the duties of wife and mother, by a Virginia lady, Mrs. Mary Mason.

The great question of State rights as it stood before the civil war, has been discussed by Major J. M. Bundy, editor of the New York Evening Mail, in a pamphlet entitled "Are we a Nation?" published by G. P. Putnam & Sons.

Among the curosities of the German book market within the next few months will be a translation of Homer's "Iliad" into the language of the Nibelungen Lied, by Professor Carl Bartsch, formerly of Rostock, and now of Heidelberg.

The large "Swedish Cyclopædia," now in course of publication at Stockholm, has only between five and six hundred subscribers in the three Scandinavian kingdoms. When completed, the Cyclopædia will contain twenty-four volumes.

A Turkish gentleman, named Murad Effendi, and at present consul-general of the Sultan at Temesvar, has written several novels and plays in the German language, which are warmly praised by the critics of Germany and Austria.

☞ "It is a striking fact that the dying never weep. The sobbing, the heart breaking agony of the circle of friends around the death-bed, call forth no responsive tears from the dying. Is it because he is insensible, and stiff in the chill of dissolution? That cannot be, for he asks for his father's hand, as if to gain strength in the mortal struggle, and on the breast of his mother, sister or brother, in still conscious affection. Just before expiring, he calls the loved ones, and with quivering lips says, 'Kiss me,' showing that the love which he has ever born in his heart is still fresh and warm. It must be because the dying have reached a point too deep for earthly sorrows, too transcendant for weeping. They are face to face with higher and holier things, with the Father in Heaven and His angels. There is no weeping in that blessed abode to which he is hastening."

☞ A woman who is in "a state of mind" over the question of ruffles of puffs, writes to the Citizen and Round Table thus: "The triumph which a woman feels on being the recipient of unlimited male homage, or when she is the delight of male beings' eyes, or the coveted of male beings' hearts, is but a rush-light, a farthing dip to a lambent lamp, filled with the purest Astral oil, a gorgeous, gleaming chandelier of glaring gas, when compared with the ravishing rush of satisfaction and complacency and pure joy which feeds her noble soul when every woman in the room is green with envy of her. The utter earthiness of man's gross nature may probably prevent his appreciation of this exalted sensation, this transfiguration which takes place in the female bosom at intervals, but most women know it, and feel it, and, in fact, I know how it is myself."

READ! READ! READ!!! Health, beauty and happiness restored to modern womanhood, by using Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator or Woman's Best Friend.

☞ Sold by every Druggist in Charlotte, N. C., and by Druggists generally. ☜

We were kindly furnished the following extract from a letter to Dr. F. Scarr, Druggist, of this city:

STANLEY COUNTY, N. C.

Dr. F. Scarr—DEAR SIR: When in your town I asked you for something for my wife. You sold me a bottle of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, or Woman's Best Friend. Please put me up one dozen bottles of the same, as the one I got from you has got my wife finely well. You would not know her now; she has got stout and healthy and as red as a rose. As others are needing it please send me one dozen bottles. ***

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 23, 1871.

Dr. J. H. Bradfield—DEAR SIR: We cheerfully bear testimony to the efficacy and popularity of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator. Among a number of cases it has benefitted in this community, we mention that of a married lady. She was a sufferer from womb disease; had excessive and disagreeable flow of whites; was weak and languid. She was induced to try the Regulator, and, after taking the second bottle she is sound and well. Her health and elasticity of spirits have returned, and she has gained many pounds in weight; feels altogether like a new being. Yours very respectfully,

DELAYS ARE DANGEROUS.—That poor, emaciated consumptive, who is now beyond all hope of recovery, might now be hale and hearty had he not neglected that slight cough. Be advised, if you have a cough or cold, get at once a bottle of Dr. Tutt's Expectorant and you will soon be relieved. Do not put it off. apr26-d1w

CELEBRATED

BITTER CORDIAL!

WHOLESALE DEPOT,

Northwest Cor. Fifth and Race Streets, Philadelphia.

JACOB SCHEETZ, Sole Prop'r

IT is a reliable Family Medicine, and can be taken by either infant or adult with the same beneficial results. It is a certain, prompt, and speedy remedy for Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Bowel Complaint, Dyspepsia, Lowness of Spirits, Faintings, Sick Stomach, Headache, etc. For Chills and Fevers of all kinds, it is far better and safer than quinine, without any of its pernicious effects. It creates an appetite, proves a powerful digester of food, and will counteract the effects of liquor in a few minutes. As an indisputable evidence of its medical proprieties, we append a few of the many certificates in our possession.

CUMBERLAND IRON WORKS, TENN.,
October 12th, 1869.

Jacob Scheetz, M. D.—Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been having the chills for the last twelve months. I tried all medicines recommended to me for the disease, without receiving any benefit. Having heard Scheetz's Bitters highly spoken of, I procured a bottle, and finding some relief, I continued it until I am happy to say that I am completely well. I not only consider the Bitters a sovereign remedy for chills, but I believe, it a preventive, and cheerfully recommend it to the afflicted.

Yours very truly, MOLLIE HART.

PHILADELPHIA, February 17th, 1868.

Dear Sir: This is to certify that I have been intimately acquainted with Scheetz's Celebrated Bitter Cordial for the past four years, and have seen its effects in Dyspepsia, Nervous Diseases, Rheumatism, and all the various forms of general debility tending to decline, and from my knowledge of said bitters, I have no hesitation in pronouncing them the best general remedy for the above diseases that is known. You may use this in any way you desire.

WM. CLARK, M. D.,
No. 816 Market St., and N. E. Cor. 6th and Callowhill.

Mr. Jacob Scheetz—Dear Sir: It affords me much pleasure to infrom you that after suffering for fifteen months with Chills and Fever, I was induced to use your justly celebrated Bitter Cordial, which effected a permanent cure, only used one half pint last August, and had not a chill since. You are at liberty to use this as you please.

THE CAROLINA FERTILIZER!

IS MADE FROM THE

PHOSPHATES OF SOUTH CAROLINA,

AND is pronounced by various Chemists, one of the best MANURES known. It was extensively used in most of the Cotton-growing States last season, and in a great number of trials, in comparison with other ding Fertilizers, proved superior to every other.

THE SOUTH CAROLINA PHOSPHATES

Are remains of extinct land and sea animals, and possess qualities of the greatest value to the Agriculturist. Pamphlets containing description of this

REMARKABLE DEPOSIT,

With engravings of Fossils found in it, and testimonials proving the superiority of the Fertilizer, will be forwarded on application.

Extract from article in Rural Carolinian, February number, 1871, giving details of experiments with fifteen different Fertilizers:

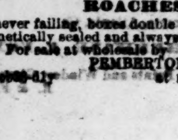

"From the above experiments and their results, I almost reach some conclusions which may prove of interest to others.

"First—That Peruvian Guano, which has been considered the standard for comparison for all commercial Fertilizers, fails to produce as much cotton as a Fertilizer claiming to contain no ammonia at all.

"Second—That neither the Peruvian nor the unmixed Super-Phosphates produces so well as a combination of the two, or as a commercial Fertilizer containing both super-phosphate and ammonia, like the Carolina Fertilizer, which has produced better results for me than any other commercial Fertilizer."

LOUISVILLE, KY., Sept. 1.—I feel that we have now an article of gin suitable for such cases as that remedy is adapted to. DR. J. W. BRIGHT.

"Schnapps" is a remedy in chronic catarrhal complaints, etc.

I take great pleasure in bearing highly creditable testimony to its efficacy as a remedial agent in the diseases for which you recommend it. Having a natural tendency to the mucous surfaces, with a slight degree of stimulation, I regard it as one of the most important remedies in chronic catarrhal affections, particularly those of the genito-urinary apparatus. With much respect, your obedient servant,

CAHS. A. LEAS, M. D., New York.

26 PINE STREET, NEW YORK, Nov. 21, 1867—UDOLPHO WOLFE, ESQ., Present: Dear Sir—I have made a chemical examination of a sample of your "Schiedam Schnapps," with the intent of determining if any foreign or injurious substance had been added to the simple distilled spirits.

The examination has resulted in the conclusion that the sample contained no poisonous or harmful admixture. I have been unable to discover any trace of the deleterious substances which are sometimes employed in the adulteration of liquors. I would not hesitate to use myself, nor to recommend to others, for medical purposes, the "Schiedam Schnapps" as an excellent and unobjectionable variety of gin. Very respectfully yours,

(Signed) CHAS. A. SEELY, Chemist.

CHEMICAL AND TECHNICAL LABERATORY, 18 EXCHANGE PLACE, New York, Nov. 25, 1867.—Udolpho Wolfe, Esq.: Dear Sir—The undersigned have carefully and thoroughly analyzed a sample of your "Aromatic Schiedam Schnapps," selected by ourselves, and have found the same free from all organic or inorganic substances, more or less injurious to health. From the result of our examination, we consider the article one of superior quality, healthful as a beverage, and effectual in its medicinal qualities.

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) ALEX. TRIPPEL, Chemist,
FRANCIS E. ENGELHARD, M. D.

SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS

—FOR—

ONE DOLLAR!

THE GRAND RAFFLE WILL POSITIVELY take place in Ringgold, Ga., on the 22d day of May next. B. C. Yates' Large Brick Store House and Dwelling, and entire stock of Goods valued at Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000).

This House is 25 by 100 feet, fronting on Norwille street, and Cleborn street in rear. Sale Room 25 by 55 feet, with 100 feet of shelving and counters each. All finished and painted in the most approved city style. State Room or second floor 25 by 55 feet. Grocery Room large and convenient. The Dwelling has four rooms and hall, all finished in neat style. There is a never failing well in the Counting-room that supplies the Cook-room of the Dwelling by means of a pump, and is one of the best arranged houses in the State—being the capital prize.

For One Dollar you may get a prize that will support your family for 100 years. Think of it.

The entire stock of goods will be made up in packages of actual value of Ten, Twenty-five, Fifty and One Hundred Dollar packages.

We certify that B. C. Yates has made and delivered to us a deed of trust for the House and Lot in Ringgold, described in his Circular for a Raffle, which property we hold in trust to be conveyed to the holder of the ticket receiving the highest number, according to the plan of his Raffle. And, if the Raffle fails, then in trust for the re-payment to the ticket holders all moneys received by him for tickets.

JOHN W. COMBS, Ordinary.
DR. W. A. WOODS, County Treasurer.
E. M. DODSON, Attorney.
DR. L. BROWN.
McALLEN BATTS.

PLAN OF RAFFLE:

There will be Twelve Thousand Tickets issued, and no more. On the 22d day of May there will be six dice thrown (three times) from the same box, by Six Sworn Commissioners, for each and every ticket. The highest number thrown will be entitled to the highest prize, and so on. Should there be a tie, another throw will determine the fortunate one.

There is one hundred and eight prizes, from Ten to Six Thousand Dollars—being a prize for every number that can be thrown.

NOTICE TO AGENTS.

The person selling one hundred tickets, will be entitled to ten tickets and raffle for $500 extra.

The person selling fifty tickets, will be entitled to five tickets and raffle for $150 extra.

The person selling thirty tickets, will be entitled to three tickets and raffle for $50 extra.

The person selling twenty tickets, will be entitled to two tickets and raffle for $20 extra.

Should there be a "tie" with Agents, the Managers will determine who is entitled to it.

The lady selling the largest number of tickets will be entitled to a Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine.

As there is but a remnant of tickets on hand, those wanting them will send in their orders soon.

Send money by Express or Registered letter, paying charges, as I am not responsible until the money is received by me.

You will receive a duly accredited list of the Raffle as soon as it is over, under a Notary's seal.

The Great Medical Discovery.

THE ALLEVIATOR OF ALL PHYSICAL PAIN.

BRANCH & QUIN'S LINIMENT, besides being the best and perhaps the only, remedy for that excruciating disease, the Rheumatism, has been proved capable of curing neuralgia, pneumonia, diptheria, sore throat, toothache, earache, headache, and, in fact, all the pains and aches that flesh is heir to.

Though only known to the public for about the space of twelve months, this unrivaled medicine has nevertheless already attained a wide notoriety—hundreds restored to health by its wonderful power, now testify to its many virtues, and the proprietors are constantly receiving applications for it from almost every quarter.

Branch & Quin's Liniment is no Yankee swindle. Its proprietors are Southern men. All they ask is a trial in order to convince any one, even the most obstinate and prejudiced of its merit, and they are prepared to guarantee it to be as represented.
